BIDING CLUB MAY SPONSOR 4-H UNIT HERE

The Gettysburg Riding Club decided to study the possibility of helping from a 4-H light horse and pony club in Adams County and discussed plans for its own annual horse show to be held June 19 at its March meeting Tuesday evening at the engine house. The president, Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, presided.

The riding club had invited assistant County Farm Agent John Naugle to the meeting to discuss the state plans and booklets on 4-H light horse and pony clubs. Entering into the discussion was LeRoy H. Winebrenner of the Riding Club, local representative of the American Shetland Pony Club, for the organization of such clubs for youngsters.

It was pointed out that surrounding counties have such clubs and that a feature of the state farm show this year was a show by 4-H light horse and pony club members from throughout the state.

Will Investigate Plan

Winebrenner and John D. Teeter were appointed to investigate procedures for forming such a 4-H club here and report to the club at its April meeting.

A report also was presented on the Monday meeting at Westminster of the Maryland-Pennsylvania Horse Show Circuit when several new shows were listed for the circuit this year. They will include a show by the Kiwanis Club of Hagerstown, the Greenacres Riding Club and a civic group at Mount Alto. Recommendations on classes for the shows this year were announced at Westminster and next month the local club will take action on including those classes in the local show.

WILL SELECT APPLE QUEEN ON MARCH 26

The first event in Adams County's annual apple blossom celebration, selection of an Apple Blossom Queen, will be held on Saturday evening, March 26, at 7:30 o'clock at the Arendtsville Elementary School, according to an announcement by Mrs. Richard B. Trostel, chairman of the queen committee.

Selection of a queen will be made from a list of 121 contestants, all daughters, aged 16 through 21, of Adams County fruit-growers. Added attractions will be the Biglerville High School dance band under the direction of Harold W. Sanders; a baton twirling exhibition by Linda Kaspar, Camp Hill, and a tap and ballet dance routine by Elaine Kaspar, Harrisburg. The public is invited to the performance and to a dance following the program.

Lott, Gardner R. 1, and Mrs. Thomas Oyler, Gettysburg R. 3. Any qualifying Adams County girls not yet entered in the contest are urged to contact these committee members for details.

To Enter State Contest

As a preliminary to the contest, a "school of grooming" will be held for the contestants on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Arendtsville Elementary School under the direction of Mrs. Trostel and Miss Joan E. Staub, the reigning blossom queen.

The 1960 queen will be crowned at a ceremony on Apple Blossom Sunday. Throughout the year she will participate in various events relating to the promotion of Adams County apples. She will enter the state contest at York, which is a feature of the annual meeting of the Horticulture Association of Pennsylvania.

As an added attraction, the queen and members of her court have been invited to greet 2,000 visitors who are coming into Adams County on April 30 and May 8 via "Iron Horse." A project of the Reading Company, the "Iron Horse" is a steam passenger train which will bring railroad enthusiasts and tourists from Allentown and Philadelphia through part of the county's blossom area with Gettysburg as its destination.

President Endorses Dick Nixon For GOP Nomination

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower made plain at a news conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination.

The President was asked about published reports that at a dinner Saturday night he indirectly tapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

Refer To Dinner

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reporters are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actual-

Census Result May Boost Adams County To Higher Class; Will Mean Changes

The U.S. Census, scheduled to start next month, is expected to show that Adams County has now entered the "sixth class" list.

In 1950 the county had 44,197 residents, 84 persons to each of the county's 526 square miles. That number was only 803 less than the county needs — 45,000 — to move from seventh to sixth class. The advancement is expected to make a number of changes—including removal of county officials from a fee basis to a straight salary, although there will be no change for the present incumbents.

State law provides that the governor will notify the county commissioners of any change made by a census by October of the year of the census, and provides for the changeover in classification as of January 1 of the next year.

Census Of Interest

Thus the coming census will hold much interest for county officials who will be finding many of their prerogatives, salaries and other factors of their offices changing if the census puts the county over the 45,000 mark.

The population in 1950 was an

TUESDAY NIGHT FRACAS SENDS FOUR TO JAIL

A discussion over a missing car led to four men being sent to jail in default of fines and costs at Fairfield Tuesday evening.

Justice of the Peace Roger Myers placed fines and costs totaling $23.30 each on Harry Reese, 29, Fairfield R. 1; Clarence Quilly, 27, Waynesboro R. 4; Roy Flory, 18, Fairfield R. 2, and John Grabill, 20, Thurmont R. 1, on charges of disorderly conduct after the men, according to Fairfield Chief of Police W. L. Fleming, became embroiled in a fight near the Fairfield Elementary School about 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

In default of the $23.30 each, the justice sent all to jail. Only Reese and Flory remained there this morning.

Justice Myers said Reese suffered cuts about the head in the fracas.

The justice said testimony given at the hearing showed Quilly and Reese were visiting in one Fairfield home and Flory and Grabill were in the house next door.

Quilly, said the justice, went to the home where Flory and Grabill were and asked if anyone knew where his missing car might be. Somehow the question led to a fracas with the four men involved on the front lawns at the two homes.

Myers said Quilly was not sure at the hearing whether his car was someone's.

Justice Myers said he never did get any complete explanation as to why the fracas started, but he was certain the men were disturbing the peace, because of the numerous phone calls to the justice from citizens until Officer Fleming arrived at the scene.

Reds Suggest Russia, Red China And U.S. Cut Armed Forces To 1,700,000 Men

By TOM OCHILTREE
GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that the United States, the U.S.S.R. and Red China cut their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each within 18 months.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin made the proposal to the 10-nation disarmament conference at a closed session during which the five Western allies formally submitted their three-stage plan to halt the arms race. The Western plan was made public Tuesday and got a chilly reception from the Soviets.

The Soviet plan—which has not been formally put before the conference—is based on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to the U. N. General Assembly last September that all nations disarm completely within a four-year period.

Three Stage Disarmament
Zorin said the Soviet plan also calls for disarmament in three stages. Paralleling the troop cuts

The new county home may prove to be too small when it is completed.

That was indicated by a report at the county commissioners' meeting in the court house today that there are at present five persons on a "waiting list" to get into the present home.

The new home is designed to hold 80 guests—the number currently in the county home.

No comments were made this morning by the commissioners on a possible inadequacy of the new home. The "waiting list" came to light when a county woman sought admission of her father-in-law into the home.

May Be Temporary

The commissioners pointed out that since the nonagenarian has 11 children the county must investigate first to see whether the children can provide "keeps in case their father is accepted. They also pointed out that the waiting list exists.

In private conversation members of the board said they had decided to go ahead with an 80-guest home because at the time plans were gotten underway the county home was averaging 70 or less occupants. An attempt now to enlarge the plans would involve possibly another year's delay. To increase the size would require new plans to be sent to various state and federal bureaus to obtain all of the approvals that are needed before such a home can be built.

The "surplus" of guests may be temporary, commissioners said, and pointed out that by going ahead with the present home and constructing an 80-guest home it may be possible that the new home will be more than adequate for the need at that time. The new home, however, is designed so that wings can be built later if needed. If the number of guests continues above the 80 mark, additional wings may be added within a short time, or part of the present county home renovated only a few years ago may be used for guests who are able to care for themselves with only supervision.

Okay County Aid

The general problems of government were aired this morning when Burgess Wilbur L. Plank met with the commissioners. The burgess, an engineer, was asked to drop in to discuss the plans for renovation of the court room.

Approval was given by the commissioners for county aid totaling $1,253.57 for Germany Twp. According to its application, the township intends spending the money for work on 600 feet of Twp. Rt. 448.

zell introduced the program for the evening, a talk by Hugh C. McIlhenny, assistant editor of The Gettysburg Times, on the history of Adams County newspapers. McIlhenny said approximately 30 newspapers have been published in this county since the first weekly was founded by Robert Harper in Gettysburg in 1800, 10 months after Adams County was established. Harper's first issue of "The Centinel" came out November 12 of that year.

First Daily Here In '02

After three issues the paper suspended briefly but resumed publication in January of 1891. One of its first "big stories" was the report of the election of Thomas Jefferson as third president of the United States, news that reached its readers eight days after the event took place.

Papers that were operated for varying periods in other county towns were described by the speaker who told of other papers which were published at the county seat including the Anti-Masonic Star published briefly in 1830 by Thaddeus Stevens.

The first daily in Gettysburg was The Progress, started in 1902 by M. A. Garvin and A. P. Seilheimer. It became the Times in 1905. The Times and News Publishing Company was formed in 1920 and continues to publish a modern daily that bears on its masthead Harper's slogan of 160 years ago: "Truth Our Guide, the Public Good Our Aim."

MARKET MOVES AHEAD

NEW YORK (AP)—The market moved ahead for the fourth straight session with trading moderately active late this afternoon. Steels continued active and shares of the top producers made fractional gains.

Electronics and other "science" stocks posted gains running to 2 or 3 points.

GOOD SCIENCE TEXTBOOKS IN USE HERE

A "very good series of science textbooks is being used in the elementary grades of the Gettysburg Public Schools," Ronald Miller, member of the faculty at the Keffer Elementary School, told members of the Gettysburg Joint School Board at their March meeting Monday evening at the high school building.

Miller appeared in a series of reports to the board being presented each month by members of the elementary and high school faculties. Last month's report was on high school English teachers and next month Robert D. Fidler, head of the social studies department in the high school, will appear before the board.

Introduced by Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle, Miller said science teaching starts at basic levels in the first three grades and is intended to give pupils a basic understanding of science and to teach them how to approach scientific problems.

Pupils Enjoy Learning

Miller said the Allen and Bacon series of textbooks for elementary grades in use here is "very good" and was the one used at the Shippenburg State College in training elementary teachers for instruction in science subjects.

"The books give the problems and the facts but not the answers," Miller said. "They are basically books of experimentation in which the scientific method is brought out. It helps the pupils to enjoy science while they learn."

He said that weekly readers at graded levels are used to supplement the textbooks and broaden the subject. "It is like a newspaper for the pupils and teaches them to read and promotes their interest in current events in science and in the news generally."

Other Teaching Aids

He told of the use of television in the classrooms of sixth graders and of the preliminary and follow-up work done on the broadcasts by the teachers. Field trips for the pupils and correlation of art and music programs with the science teaching also helps, he said.

Film strips and slides and growing library collections are other devices used to aid the teaching of science. Junior and senior science kits are used and there is a science table on wheels used to display materials. Other supplies and equipment secured through operation of the National Defense Education Act at reduced cost to the district is being used extensively, he indicated.

NEW SUBURBAN
TAGS OUT SOON

The first of the new "suburban" type license tags for station wagons will start reaching the 2,200 owners of such vehicles in Adams County in the very near future. David Oyler, local representative of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, announced today.

The first such tag, which calls for a fee of $12 and permits use of the station wagon as either a passenger car or a truck, went to the Pennsylvania Automotive Association which represents retail automobile dealers of the state and has long been a chief advocate of the special license tag for station wagons.

The new suburban tag law becomes effective April 1 and removes all confusion over proper use and registration of station wagons. Oyler said the state organization believes that a large majority of station wagon owners who had them registered as passenger cars were innocently and unknowingly violating the law on numerous occasions by using their station wagons as trucks.

The new license plate for station wagons carried the prefix "Q" and the word "suburban" and will automatically be issued to all station wagons regardless of how they are currently registered.

Census Result

baths will show an increase in the new census.

Other Details Revealed

The bureau of census statistical abstract put out in 1956 shows that in 1955 Adams County had 7,345 residential telephones and 2,395 business telephones. The vital statistics for 1954 carried in 1,128 births, 425 deaths and 284 marriages in the county in 1954.

Reports on retail trade for 1954, carried in the same abstract, showed the county to have 542 retail establishments, in 348 of which persons were employed. The retail outlets sold $40,308,000 worth of goods and paid wages totaling $3,293,000 during the year 1954. The number of paid employees in the stores was 1,590.

There were 111 food stores in the county selling $7,312,000 worth of groceries; 84 eating and drinking places doing $2,763,000 worth of business; 31 general merchandise establishments selling $1,970,000 worth of articles. Twenty-eight apparel and accessory stores sold $857,000 worth; 43 furniture, home furnishings and appliance dealers sold $1,893,000 worth of articles in 1954.

Automotive, Building Figures
In the automotive group 35 establishments sold $8,898,000 worth of autos and accessories; 75 service stations sold $3,031,000 worth of gas, oil and service; 43 lumber, building materials, hardware and farm equipment establishments sold $4,529,000 worth of articles and materials.

The 1954 retail figures showing 542 establishments selling $40,308,000 worth of merchandise is compared in the abstract with 573 retail establishments in 1948 doing $31,295,000 worth of business.

The report for 1954 showed the county to have 106 manufacturing establishments, of which 61 had from one to 19 employees, 27 between 20 and 99 employees and 18 had more than 100 employees. The manufacturing establishments had a total of 5,570 employees and in 1954 paid them $14,800,000.

One part of the report proved encouraging to young ladies with matrimony in mind. According to the census bureau—at least in 1950—for every 100 women in the county there were 100.09 men.

Father Saves Baby

Fate intervened and a young girl's life was spared when fire broke out in her bedroom as she lay asleep early Tuesday morning. Cynthia Rider, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney C. Rider, Hanover R. 5, had been asleep for about five hours when flames from a vaporizer near her bed spread to the little girl's pillow and mattress.

The girl's mother was awakened by the smoke. Mrs. Rider awakened her husband, who rushed to the bedroom and carried his daughter to safety.

Twenty-seven student of the Theological Seminary of the United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) in Lancaster will present a concert of sacred music on Friday at Trinity Church here at 8 p.m. The members of the choir are preparing for service in various fields of the Christian ministry. Rider phoned the home of McSherrytown Fire Chief Eugene Murren. Firemen arrived on the scene about 3:20 a.m. and extinguished the blaze. PUSH WORK ON
GRADE SCHOOL

The East Berlin Elementary School is 45 per cent completed, it was announced Monday evening at a meeting of the Bermudian Springs Joint School System with president, Raymond Leer, presiding. 25 were present.

The personnel committee recommended employment of art instructor and supervisor Arthur L. Sowers at a salary of $4,000. Sowers will graduate from Kutztown State College in June.

A preliminary budget of $389,000 was offered by the finance committee. The board approved payment of $31,350.31 expenses. A report showed that the cafeteria operated at a profit of $41 during February and served 12,800 meals.

Due to inclement weather and the loss of school days, the board approved cancellation of the Easter Monday holiday and also approved the addition of a section of stainless steel to improve the facilities of the York Springs cafeteria. The work, to be done by the Weiss Restaurant Company, York, will cost $350.

A discussion of possible census enumeration in all districts during the summer was held but no final action was taken. The board "reacted favorably" to a proposal to advance the basic education program through the ninth grade instead of the eighth grade and a job permit application by Miss Janet Alland, East Berlin, was received.

Hucksters Make Final Effort To Keep Curb Market In Square

Here: Farmers attending Gettysburg's curb market inaugurated a "last ditch" fight to keep the market on center square at a meeting at the Arendtsville fire engine house, Friday evening.

According to reports, fifty hucksters, most of whom at one time or another attended curb market here, attended the meeting and elected Danner Peters, of York D. Sheely, Arendtsville, secretary. The farmers also drew up a petition urging council to rescind its action to move the curb market indoors to the Albert J. Lentz Legion post building on Baltimore street.

County To Help Furnish "Spuds"

Adams County farmers will be given an opportunity to furnish 24,000 bushels of potatoes to the state emergency relief board as a result of a potato-purchase program announced Thursday evening in Harrisburg. A total of 10,000 bushels of potatoes, for which the state will pay $69,000 or 69 cents a hundred pounds, will be purchased for distribution to persons on direct relief.

Officers Are Installed By Business Club

Newly-elected officers were installed, committees were appointed, convention echoes were heard and current business was transacted at a supper-meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Y.W.C.A. Thursday evening.

At a business session, Miss Florence Mae Steward, general secretary of the Y, installed the following officers: Miss Ellen E. Tipton, president; Mrs. William Swisher, vice president; Miss Myrtle Stauffer, secretary, and Miss Mildred Weikert, treasurer.

Do Measles Follow Tax?

After completing, at noon today, preparation of income tax returns for half a dozen industries and a score or more individuals, George W. Boehner, chief accountant for the local furniture factories, exhausted and feeling ill, consulted his physician. Dr. Roy W. Gifford pronounced the ailment as German measles and Mr. Boehner was quarantined this afternoon.

Asks Bids For Fire Pump; To Cost $8,000

James B. Aumen, president of the Gettysburg Fire company, and members of the joint fire company and council committee in charge of recommending an apparatus for purchase by the borough, reported progress in negotiations at the regular March meeting of the fire company, Wednesday evening. The new machine will cost approximately $8,000 of which the borough will pay about $6,000 and the fire company, $2,000.

State Will Pay $400 To Local Firemen Relief

The relief fund of the Gettysburg Fire company will be increased by approximately $400 within the next few days by a payment of one-third the normal allocation due the company from the state. The remainder of the local company's allotment will be made in two other payments in July and the other in the fall.

Snow Follows Rainy Spell: A belated snow storm covered Adams County with a two-inch blanket Tuesday night following three days of rain during which the total precipitation was 1.39 inches.

State School Appropriation Is Reduced

Gettysburg's state appropriation for the last half of the second term amounted to $9,094.50, according to the report of the school treasurer at the March meeting of the school board, Monday night. This is approximately $3,000 or 70 per cent short of the state appropriation of last year and coincides with reductions in state appropriations to schools throughout the state.

Today's Talk

WITH A CLEAN SLATE

I recall in my youth how good it seemed to me when I entered my classroom with a clean slate. Later in life the experience of keeping a clean slate takes on new significance.

We learn that we can carry this thought through life. If we keep a clean slate as a part of our life equipment, we shall be sure to bolster our courage and invite others to join us. With a clean slate, a clean working desk, and a clean tongue (the latter my M.D.'s suggestion!) If we clean up as we go, we shall go far. A cluttered life is always a careless one, full of fear and confusion. Worry does more damage than is realized. With a clean slate and a purposeful determination, multitudes will want to learn the secret of your growing mind and healthy body.

Our Creator meant for each one of us to be of good cheer and face all emergencies with courage and a will! That is what Stevenson suggested—and he lived courageously during his own life. He was a sick man most of the years given to him, but he never complained. He went forward spreading himself in fighting togs, and withal a sense of cheer that has ennobled all literature to this day! Stevenson is one of the most inspiring examples of courage that we have.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Idealist". Protected, 1960, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

A TIP

Your neighbor doesn't care at all To hear your tale of woe Or listen to your troubles small; He doesn't want to know How crooked other people are Who've had to deal with you, Nor learn the many faults that mar The work that others do.

Your neighbor has no wish to learn How strangers made their pelf, If for those facts he starts to yearn He'll find them out himself. He is not eager to be told The failings of another; In fact he's rather like to hold The good will of a brother.

So if you'd have your neighbor be Delighted when you call, Just do your chatting pleasantly; Forget your troubles small; If one has won by shady ways, You needn't then disclose it. Such news flies swiftly nowadays; It's ten to one he knows it. — Protected, 1960, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Two Are Tied In Guessing Contest: W. M. Wmyser, college student, and H. Leaders Agree On Summit Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were reported in basic agreement today on the major policy lines which the West should follow in negotiating German issues with the Soviet Union. The negotiations are being prepared as part of the Big Four summit meeting in Paris next May.

Eisenhower scheduled a morning news conference at which he was certain to be questioned about his 13 1/2-hour meeting with Adenauer Tuesday.

Adenauer, on his way to Tokyo, came here to seek assurance that the President was dead set against negotiating any summit agreement with the Soviet Union at the expense of the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

The 84-year-old chancellor is known to feel that the present arrangement whereby U.S., British and French forces on the scene guarantee the independence of West Berlin cannot be improved upon by any negotiated agreement.

U. S. officials said the President gave assurance that there would be no compromise on basic protection for the position of West Berlin as a Western city surrounded by East Germany.

BUTLER SAYS KENNEDY WILL BE NOMINATED

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler seemed likely today to survive a political boo-boo that might have cost a less-agile performer his job.

Butler made what many in his party regard as the political mistake of being caught at predicting that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) will win the Democratic presidential nomination.

He was identified by the New York Post, which presumably had no representative there, as the highly placed Democrat who told a group of reporters at the National Press Club Monday that recent developments indicate a Kennedy victory.

National chairmen are traditionally supposed to be neutral in pre-convention contests. Under political protocol they are not permitted to side publicly with one candidate against another or even suggest that any particular individual is in the lead.

Humphrey Complains

Some other chairmen might have faced serious demands for his ouster from the temporarily united forces of Kennedy's rivals for the nomination. But only Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey came forward to say that Butler had "outlived his usefulness" by taking sides in the presidential contest.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, often a target for Butler criticism, declined any comment.

The fact remained, however, that only the National Committee could fire Butler and it has stood staunchly behind him in his frequent excursions into hot water with many elements of his party.

In the course of what seems a charmed life in the chairmanship, he has berated Southerners about civil rights to the extent that some Dixie party organizations won't send funds to the national group so long as he is chairman.

He has squabbled with Gov. David L. Lawrence, the Pennsylvania national committeeman. He has a running feud going with Col. Jacob M. Arvey, the Illinois national committeeman.

Some Approve Butler

But a good many Democrats think Butler has made his job of managing the party's national convention much more difficult by putting himself in a position where it could be reported that he is for Kennedy.

Every choice he makes of a convention official now will be examined carefully to determine whether he is putting a Kennedy man in a key position. And the attitude of rival candidates toward any such action may not be quite so lenient when the nomination battle reaches the infighting stage.

Say U. S. Must Be Ready For Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A civil defense official says the nation must develop its abilities to withstand a nuclear attack.

Addressing some 200 industrial and business leaders Tuesday, Leo A. Hoegh, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, said:

"A potential enemy must know we cannot be destroyed in one or a series of swift assaults, that our industries and institutions can weather a massive nuclear attack and quickly recover."

He said the nation now has a warning time of two to three hours, but added that the day will come when this time will be cut to 15 minutes.

Hawks Win Berth In Hockey Playoffs

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, beset by a woeful start and midseason tragedy, have struggled into the Stanley Cup playoffs and claim they can win the trophy symbolic of hockey supremacy.

Now they can sit back and watch the Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins fight for the fourth and final playoff spot.

The National Hockey League's postseason action starts Tuesday in Montreal. It looks as if the Hawks, 3-2 winners over Detroit in Tuesday night's only game, will face Montreal in the first round. Chicago now is three points ahead of Detroit in third place.

The Hawks had only one victory and three ties after their first 15 games this season.

Detroit is four points ahead of Boston with two games left. The Bruins, who play the Rangers at New York tonight, have three games left, two on the road.

Jurist Appointed To Senate Seat

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Hall Stoner Lusk, 76, is leaving the quiet and shelter of the Oregon Supreme Court for the U. S. Senate. Lusk says it should be exciting.

The departure, after 23 years on the court, Lusk says, is not without a twinge of regret.

"We're sheltered from public pressure, entirely different from the Legislature. The only pressure that's brought to bear on us is the pressure of argument and of brief."

Lusk, a life-long Democrat, was appointed by Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield Tuesday to fill the vacancy left by the death of Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.).

Some Democrats were nettled by Lusk's appointment, saying Neuberger's widow, Maurine, should have been given the post. But Mrs. Neuberger, who has entered the race to succeed her husband for a six-year term, said the appointment was a sound one.

Lusk's Senate term will last only until the November general election.

PUSH NEW PLAN FOR CIVIL RIGHTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—House civil rights quarterbacks worked for a decisive vote today in favor of a voting referee provision. Their problem was to keep their bipartisan team members all headed in the same direction.

The Eisenhower administration plan for court-appointed referees to help Negroes or other minority citizens exercise their voting rights was temporarily jettisoned Tuesday.

A liberal Democratic move for a broader proposal picked up surprising strength. It would have substituted for the referees a system using enrolling officers appointed by the president.

Southern opponents of any new civil right legislation swung into action, seeing a chance to split apart Democratic and Republican supporters of tighter voting laws.

The Southerners threw their weight first one way, then another.

The substitute was voted in as a replacement for the administration plan, then was pitched out. When the players untangled themselves, the Eisenhower plan, in slightly modified form, was again before the House and everybody called time out until today.

SYNGMAN RHEE IS RE-ELECTED

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Syngman Rhee's forces won the presidency and vice presidency of South Korea today in a landslide after a bloody election the opposition charged was rigged. The anti-Rhee Democratic party promised a court contest.

Post-election violence flared anew as demonstrators, disgruntled with the outcome of the voting, scuffled today with police in front of the Democrats' Seoul headquarters.

At least 7 and perhaps up to 11 persons were reported killed Tuesday in election violence. All but one died in a seven-hour battle between police, Democrats and students at Masan, 250 miles south of Seoul.

Rhee, whose Democratic party opponent died a month ago after a stomach operation, won his fourth four-year term with a record popular vote.

This time the 84-year-old president's powerful Liberal party machine succeeded in electing National Assembly Speaker Lee Ki-poong to the vice presidency. Lee, 63, overwhelmingly defeated John M. Chang of the Democrats, who had bested Lee in the 1956 vice presidential race by 200,000 votes.

The vice presidential race was of major importance because of the possibility the aged president might not live out his term.

When Napoleon became Emperor of France he relented enough to hold a plebiscite. The "popular" vote was 3,752,329 in favor. And 2,569 opposed.

COUPLE HEEDS LOVE ADVICE AND IT WORKS

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—An elderly woman once told Phil Ford and Mimi Hines, "Love is like old lace—so easily torn, but so hard to repair."

The two young comics, a husband-and-wife team in show business, have borne this in mind ever since.

"We try not to hurt each other in the little things," said Phil. "Sometimes it's the small wounds that never heal."

A Young Trouper

Phil started in San Francisco as a song-and-dance man at the age of 11. Mimi was only 12—just past pigtails—when she began as a singer in a Vancouver supper club.

Eight years ago they met in an Anchorage, Alaska, night club and decided to team up in a comedy act. They were married in 1954.

Life was hurried, hectic, but happy in the next few years as they toured through dozens of small night clubs in the United States and Canada, polishing their act, learning how to deal with every type of audience.

Not Hard Times

"Looking back, I can't say they were hard times," said Phil. "We kept busy. We weren't nationally known. We were"—he smiled—"a very successful unknown act."

They now earn up to $10,000 a week, and their annual income is about $300,000—or higher.

They still have to live out of a suitcase. But success hasn't so far dented their happiness, as it often does with husband-wife teams. They feel being married is a help rather than a handicap in their mutual career.

"Very Great Help"

"I deem it a very great help," said Mimi positively. "Being in love and having a certain rapport is good for your sense of humor."

"You have to love each other if you do comedy together. Otherwise you're almost sure to break up in time."

"We never want to work apart. We have fun together. After the show, we take the dog for a walk and laugh it up. I wouldn't trade places with anyone in the world."

The only time tension bothers them, she said, is the last 10 minutes before they go on stage.

"It gets a little crowded when both of us try to make up in the same bathroom mirror at the same time," she said. "But the rest of the day goes smoothly."

St. Louis Cardinals Are Big "If" Outfit; Hemus Is Eying First Division Spot

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—"If" is the word for the St. Louis Cardinals... if Stan Musial can come back... if Bill White can play center field... if Alex Grammas can handle second base... if the young pitchers come through.

Solly Hemus, the eternal optimist, has sold himself a bill of goods. Despite questionable pitching and two key experiments, he talks about a first division finish for his St. Louis club which finished a distant seventh last year.

"The National League is so well balanced that any first division club would win," said Hemus today. "Look at what Los Angeles did last year—all the way from seventh to first."

Onlookers with less enthusiasm believe the Cardinals will do very well indeed if they can finish fifth. That would mark satisfactory progress in the rebuilding plan.

Last year the Cardinals ranked second in the league in hitting at .269 but were seventh in runs scored.

"That means we didn't have the power to knock them in after we got men on base," said Hemus. "So we went after power. We got Carl Sawatski from the Phillies, Bob Nieman from Baltimore and Darryl Spencer and Leon Wagner from San Francisco."

Musial, as usual, is the Cardinal key. He figures in a slightly different manner this season. The big question is can he still do the job? Musial toyed with retiring but was talked out of it. At 39, he will play first base. Hemus will give him as much rest as he needs.

If Musial can bounce back from that .255 year and play 100 games, the Cardinals should be better. If he can't make it, Hemus will be ready with a series of switches.

At the moment, White (.302) is the center-fielder. One of the four first basemen on the club, his bat must be in the lineup. Hemus thinks he can do the job. Joe Cunningham (.345), another first baseman, will be in right field with Nieman (.292 at Baltimore) and Leon Wagner (.225 at San Francisco) platooning in left.

If necessary, Cunningham will be returned to first base. Curt Flood (.255) is an accomplished center-fielder. Other outfield prospects are Ellis Bruton (.292 at Omaha) and Charles James (.300 at Rochester).

With Musial on first and Ken Boyer (.309) at third, the ends of the infield will be familiar. Spencer (.265 at San Francisco) returns to his favorite position at shortstop after playing second for the Giants. Grammas, a shortstop who hit .269 last season, has moved to second with Eddie Stanley as his tutor.

George Crowe (.301), Wally Shannon (.287) and Dick Gray (.314) are the extras. Young Bob Kabbes (.267 at Tulsa) has looked good and Gene Oliver (.244) will be available as a handyman.

Smith Top Catcher
Hal Smith (.270) is the No. 1 catcher with Sawatski (.293 at Philadelphia) as a left-handed pinch-hitter and second catcher. Darryl Johnson (.218 at Richmond) probably will be the third.

Larry Jackson (14-13), Vinegar Bend Mizell (13-10), 20-year-old Bob Miller (4-3), Ron Kline (11-13 at Pittsburgh), Bob Gibson (9-9 at Omaha) and Ernie Broglio (7-12) are the likely starters. Mel Nelson (9-9 at Tulsa), Jim Donohue (8-7 at Omaha) and Dick Ricketts (6-10 at Rochester) are fighting for jobs.

BONUS BABY LOOKS GOOD WITH BOSTON

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The name Carl Yastrzemski may be hard to spell but it shouldn't be difficult to remember.

Yastrzemski, a 20-year-old Long Island, N.Y. native, is one of baseball's bonus babies—he picked up a reported $100,000 when he signed with the Boston Red Sox.

The young second baseman, who played college ball at Notre Dame, spent last season with Raleigh of the Class B Carolina League, hitting .377 in his first year in organized baseball.

Picked For Stardom
This spring Yastrzemski has been amazing Red Sox camp followers with his play and has been singled out by Boston Manager Billy Jurges for future stardom. He probably would stick now if he was an outfielder.

With the Red Sox weakened by the sudden retirement of slugger Jackie Jensen and a sub-par Ted Williams, Jurges has been giving his young prospects a solid chance to make the outfield grade.

Despite this, Yastrzemski keeps battling for an infield berth with the parent club. He came up with another impressive performance Tuesday, cracking a homer as the Red Sox ran their exhibition record to 3-0 with a 6-5 victory over San Francisco.

In other games on a program abbreviated by rain, Chicago's American League champion White Sox remained undefeated by blanking New York 3-0; Pittsburgh outlasted Kansas City in a 17-3 slugfest; Cleveland edged Chicago's Cubs 7-5 and the Cincinnati Reds turned back the Baltimore Orioles 5-2, in a night game.

CHAMBERLAIN GETS TOP SPOT

BOSTON (AP) — The All Pro Committee of the U.S. Basketball Writers Assn. Tuesday made official what most basketball fans decided long ago:

Wilt Chamberlain is the most valuable player in the National Basketball Assn.

Chamberlain, Philadelphia's one-man gang, polled 255 points in the second annual MVP award by 24 basketball writers, three in each league city.

He put together probably the greatest single season in the history of the pro basketball circuit.

He lifted the Warriors from the doormats of the Eastern Division to a strong second-place finish. En route he established eight regular season records, including most points scored—2707; highest scoring average—37.6; most field goals—1065; most rebounds 1941, and most rebounds per game 26.9.

Johnny Morris Keeps His Title

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Johnny Morris of Pittsburgh scored a technical knockout over Al Avant of Chester at the Palisades in nearby McKeesport Tuesday night to retain his Pennsylvania middleweight title.

The challenger hit the canvas for an eight count in the third round and again for a nine count in the seventh before referee Buck McTiernan stopped the fight at 1:30.

Morris avenged an earlier six-round defeat suffered at Avant's hands. Morris weighed 160 and Avant 159.

FOOTBALL TO REAP HARVEST IN TV MONEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's football-playing colleges can look forward to a guaranteed record $64 million dollars from television revenue in the next two seasons.

But perhaps benefitting even more from Tuesday's rich contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Broadcasting Co. will be the American Football League.

It was the first two-year contract the NCAA ever awarded to a television network, and nearly tripled the previous high of $2,200,000 bid by NBC for the 1959 season. No figures were disclosed by the NCAA or ABC, but The Associated Press learned that the ABC bid outstripped the National Broadcasting Co.'s offer by nearly a million dollars. NBC bid $3,300,000, the AP learned.

Present Lineup
A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman said CBS did not bid for the college games which will be televised on 13 dates each of the next two seasons.

The switch by the colleges leaves the current football TV lineup this way: CBS has the National Football League and ABC the college games. NBC has nothing to offer advertisers for a highly competitive weekend fall TV sports market.

That's where the American Football League comes in. The AFL has been leaning toward ABC in contract negotiations on the assumption that NBC money was in college football and CBS cash in the NFL.

Now the AFL suddenly becomes extremely desirable to NBC and if the new pro football league plays its cards right, it may pull off a much better deal than was possible previously.

The amount paid by ABC was not surprising in that the 1960-61 NCAA plan is the most attractive ever offered.

It gives the network control of both nine national and four regional dates each season. Previously the network had no control over regional games. The regions have also been expanded into only three national segments. Previously they often were broken down into as many as eight, the number of NCAA districts.

Harney Will Join South Penn League

Harney has decided to enter a team in the South Penn Baseball League for the coming season, it was announced today by Robert Krichen, Brunshtown, league president.

Krichen reported he had been notified by Harney officials of their decision on Tuesday. At a league meeting Monday the Maryland team was undecided.

Seven teams are now scheduled to compete in the 1960 season including Arendtsville, Bonneauville, Brunshtown, Cashtown, Greenmount, Mummaburg and Harney.

Martin Hurt On Eve Of Playoffs

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Owner Ben Kerner makes it clear he doesn't expect his St. Louis Hawks to stumble again in the pro basketball playoffs—and an injury to veteran Slater (Dugie) Martin wouldn't serve as an excuse.

"This is our greatest club," Kerner said today. "Our bench is much stronger than last year and so is the backline. Even the front line is better."

Their mental attitude facing Minneapolis is far better than last year.

Martin, a 34-year-old, 11-year veteran of many National Basketball Assn. playoffs, will be ready for spot duty at best in the opener of the best-of-seven Western final series with Minneapolis tonight.

Martin re-injured his right leg—a pulled muscle—on March 6 and the leg is still stiff.

Dugie was injured in the first game of the Western playoffs last season and the Lakers won the series in six games.

Rubberized Track To Be Built On Coast

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's track men of the future may flash to new records on a rubberized, all-weather running track that could be retrofitted like a tire.

"It has great possibilities," said Frank B. Durkee of the State Division of Architecture, including: Little or no maintenance; a tough, waterproof surface which would remain uniform throughout a meet, permitting better evaluation of each athlete's performance; greater acceleration for runners.

The state Tuesday called for bids on the track, to be built at Humboldt State College on California's rainy North Coast. It's expected to cost about $145,000, and is believed to be the first of its kind.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Continental Baseball League, which doesn't have a player of its own yet, went about the task today of stocking an entire minor league.

The Class D Western Carolina League joined bag and baggage with the Continental after being rebuffed by all the major league clubs in organized baseball. The final contracts were signed Sunday in Hickory, N.C.

The Western Carolina league will be unique among the minors: 1. All clubs will have working agreements with the Continental League, not individual teams.

2. All players will be pooled, then assigned to clubs.

3. All teams in the league will train together.

15 Players To Team

4. Each team will have 15 players made up of 11 rookies, 2 veterans and 2 players with some experience.

5. The Continental League will pay the salaries of the managers, underwrite spring training expenses and contribute financial aid.

"This is a revival of the minor leagues at the grass roots level," enthused Continental President Branch Rickey.

The teams in the Western Carolina League are Gastonia, Shelby, Statesville, Newton, Hickory, Rutherford County (Forest City), Lexington and Salisbury.

Arthur Mann, assistant to Rickey, said, "The teams already have 40 players and we need to supply only 10 more a team. Most of the new players will come from try-out camps we are establishing around Hickory."

JOHNSTOWN IS BIG THREAT FOR FARRELL

High-riding Johnstown looms today a serious threat to the aspirations of Farrell's basketball team for a second straight PIAA Class A title.

The Cambria County team, which battled its way into the playoffs by upsetting perennial Dist. 6 champion Altoona, smashed Somerset 82-28 Tuesday night to earn the right to meet Farrell in a western semifinal Friday night at Johnstown.

Farrell meanwhile was displaying championship class by defeating Uniontown 59-34 at Pittsburgh for the prestige-laden WPIAL title. It was Uniontown's first loss this year.

York completed the eastern Class A playoff lineup with a 72-61 triumph over Chambersburg in a hard-fought Dist. 3 final at Hershey. York's win moved it into the semifinal Saturday night at Harrisburg.

GOOD TIMES BLAMED FOR DULL WRITERS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The dearth of bright, young television writers is caused by good times, says Albert McCleary.

The veteran producer, now head of CBS' Television Workshop which is dedicated to the development of new talent, maintains "this is the dullest generation in the past 50 years—a generation of the rich which has no lacks."

"Young writers of the 1930s—the depression years—were writers of protest," he insists. "The writers of the 1940s had the drama of war and the reality of destruction. Today's writers are only worrying about how to live in peace and prosperity. They don't have much to say except the importance of being able to communicate with each other."

Handful Of Writers
Peace and prosperity seems to have had an effect on comedy, too.

"You can't kid the upper classes and you can't kid the lower classes—they don't like it," he says. "So there isn't much of anybody left to kid, with the result we have only a handful of comedy writers. And I'm not talking about gag writers."

After all these weeks of serious workshop dramas concerned with such social problems as narcotics addiction and lynching, McCleary finally found a comedy. It will be presented next Sunday—12 noon-12:55 p.m.—and is called "Anniversary Dinner." It concerns one area still available to the satirist's scalpel: the Washington political scene.

Steve Allen In Doubt
Steve Allen's Monday night show with Mort Sahl was one of the brightest of the NBC comedian's whole season. His show, incidentally, will continue into June—but its survival next season is still doubtful.

Almost certain casualties next season will include "Bourbon Street Beat," "The Betty Hutton Show," "Twilight Zone." The new "Andy Griffith Show" is expected to replace "The Ann Sothern Show."

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10—with Bing Crosby and Genevieve; Circle Theater, CBS, 10-11—"The Desperate Season," a study of suicide.

BOWLERS LOSE SPONSORS, GAME

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Detroit Piffers, defending team champions in the American Bowling Congress Tournament, lost their title and their sponsor the same day.

It was learned Tuesday night that the sponsor who reportedly paid $65,000 a year in salaries and expenses for the team withdrew its sponsorship Monday. Monday night the club that had set an ABC record of 3243 last year rolled 2930 for seventh place in the standings.

Only one member of the team placed well in minor divisions. Bob Kwolek took over first place in all-events Tuesday with a nine-game total of 1889. His 633 in singles put him in second place in that division, well back of Mike Totsky of Detroit, who posted 711 last week.

LOPEZ SCOFFS AGE, LUCK FOR HIS WHITE SOX

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Age and luck going to be the standbys this year for another American League pennant for the Chicago White Sox?

"Don't you believe it," Sox Manager Al Lopez said today. Lopez, who last year led the Sox to their first American League pennant in 40 years, then lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series, sees no danger in the 37-year-old average of four of his pitchers, Gerry Staley, Turk Lown, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

All Look Good
"Staley throws his sinker and Lown his fast ball usually only an inning or two," said the Sox boss, "and what difference is a year or more to Wynn?"

"He pitched 15 minutes his first day out and is the same as ever. And now (Mike) Garcia looks real good," Lopez went on, referring to the former Cleveland Indian.

"And we have (Frank) Baumann, (Don) Ferrarese and (Jake) Striker to take the left-handed pressure off (Billy) Pierce and (Rodolfo) Arias," he pointed out.

The genial senior couldn't see his team's fortunes depending on pitching or luck either.

Added Speed, Power
"We've added speed and power in Gene Freese and Minnie Minoso," he pointed out.

Freese hit 23 home runs with the Philadelphia Phils last year and will be the starting third baseman. Minoso batted .302 and hit 21 homers, driving in 92 with the Indians.

Someone asked Lopez what he thought about Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane's comments

Grade School Is Destroyed By Fire

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A fire whipped by strong winds today destroyed the Collier grade school, five miles south of Uniontown.

Twenty-two students in the building when the blaze broke out were led to safety by a teacher. No one was hurt.

At first, firemen thought they could save part of the building, a spokesman said, but high winds fanned the blaze out of control.

Two walls collapsed about two hours after the fire started.

The school, a one-story frame structure, was built in 1916. At present, some 115 pupils attend the school.

An overheated furnace is believed to have caused the fire. No estimate of damage was available immediately.

FIVE SURVIVE PLANE CRASH ON MOUNTAIN

ELY, Nev. (AP) — Wind, snow and ice smacked a light airplane onto the slope of a Nevada mountain, but all five aboard survived and were rescued after more than two days of sub-zero weather.

A helicopter from Hill Air Force Base in Utah brought the five—all members of the same family—from the snowy mountain to the warmth of this community. It was a difficult task.

Wes Stoddard, 50, a veteran bush pilot from Anchorage, Alaska, was pilot of the downed plane.

Caught By Downdraft

He told newsmen the plane, flying in poor visibility, had just cleared a mountain when it was caught in a downdraft.

He pancaked the small, twin-engine plane into the snow.

A physician at the Ely Hospital said Stoddard and his wife Helen, 49, suffered serious but not critical injuries.

The other three persons were less seriously hurt. They were the Stoddard's daughter, Mrs. Horace Cumbe, 28; her son, Randy, 6; and Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, 70, of Heyburn, Idaho, Stoddard's aunt. They were en route to Tucson, Ariz., to help Stoddard's mother celebrate her 80th birthday.

Asks Cooperation In Flood Threats

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A retired Pennsylvania state police captain has urged complete co-operation between law enforcement agencies and civil defense authorities for greater protection against floods.

Jackson R. Dodson said county Civil Defense co-ordinators could save many lives in the event of a flood.

"You are living in a flood area," he declared. "A few minutes warning will be of great help and possibly save many lives."

Dodson, addressing a meeting Tuesday of the Western Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Assn., said the present flood threat is as potential as the flood of 1936.

EARL BELLE INDICTED FOR FRAUD

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted fugitive Earl Belle, the Talentefeld brothers and their father, Edward Talentefeld, on charges of fraud and conspiracy.

The indictment, returned Monday, charged Belle on 29 counts; Murray and Burton Talentefeld on 26 counts; and their father, Edward Talentefeld, on eight charges.

The latest charges against the Pittsburgh financiers came out of the proxy fight at the Old Freeport Bank in Armstrong County. The Talentefeld brothers were charged on nine counts of violating the mail statutes in connection with the proxy vote.

20 Previous Counts
All four men were charged with violating the Securities and Exchange Act in connection with dealings in Cornucopia Gold Mines stock.

Talentefeld brothers and Belle also were charged with defrauding the Peoples Union Bank & Trust Co. of McKeesport where they allegedly obtained $200,000 loan on false financial statements.

They also were accused of defrauding the Security National Bank of Huntington, N. Y., where the brothers and Belle allegedly secured two loans totaling $475,000 on the basis of false statements.

Belle who has been in Brazil since 1958, is already under a 20-count indictment handed down in November, 1958.

The Talentefeld brothers, who were arrested on Feb. 16 on a complaint involving the proxy fight, are free on $10,000 bonds each. Their father is believed to be in Florida.

Tank Truck Hits Car, Kills Woman

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — An empty tank truck and a car collided head-on on Route 422 about eight miles west of here Tuesday, killing a woman and injuring the trucker.

Killed was Mrs. Helen Patterson, 43, of New Castle, the car driver. Alone in the vehicle, she was pinned behind the steering wheel for about an hour before being released by state police.

The truck driver, John Everall, 29, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, suffered head and knee cuts. He was admitted to Jameson Hospital, New Castle, in fair condition.

State police said Mrs. Patterson's car swerved into the path of the truck. The impact ripped out the car motor and hurled it about 50 feet.

STATE PAYING ROAD FUNDS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence reported Monday that distribution of the first part of 30 million dollars in state aid to communities for road construction will begin April 1.

The allocations will provide local road construction funds for all townships, boroughs and cities. They must qualify for the money by filing detailed financial reports with the State Highways Department.

The allocation will cover 90 percent of the 30 millions appropriated for highways projects by the local subdivisions. The remaining 10 percent will be distributed in October.

The Highways Department said it used this formula for this year's payments: $293.63 per mile of road and $1.0844 per individual.

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights fight in Congress goes on and on. Sometimes it seems as confused as ever. If there is to be a quick and quiet end to it, the House apparently will have to provide it.

For a month, through Southern filibuster and miscellaneous debate, the Senate talked on civil rights like a man addressing himself in the mirror. He wasn't changing his mind but at least he had a respectful audience.

Then over the weekend Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, said he thought the Senate might just wait till the House passed a civil rights bill and then approve that. A couple of weeks ago, when others had a similar idea, Dirksen had advocated going ahead with the Senate's own bill.

House Works Faster

The House, which started last week on its own civil rights bill, has worked much faster. Unlike the Senate, where debate is unlimited, the House agreed to cut speechmaking short. It expects to pass the bill this week and send it to the Senate.

But Monday Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the majority Democrats, called for the Senate to get busy disposing of more than 100 proposed amendments to its own bill.

For the Senate to discuss and act on 100 or more amendments—particularly since each senator can try to tack amendments on an amendment—should be quite a spectacle.

A handful of Southerners—18—kept the Senate in knots with their around-the-clock filibuster against the civil rights bill.

Fail To Stop Solons

Finally, last week, some impatient Northern liberals tried to shut off the Southerners. But they couldn't find enough other senators to go along with them and make it stick. Instead, the Senate resumed regular sessions without the around-the-clock talking.

Then Sen. Frank J. Lausche, Ohio Democrat, proposed amending the administration's bill. One section called for making it a crime to obstruct a federal court order in school integration cases.

Lausche suggested it be made a crime to obstruct court orders in any kind of case, including labor disputes. The Southerners, who wouldn't buy what the bill proposed in school cases, were willing to go along on Lausche's broader idea.

Labor Unions Scream
Northern liberals, who may have thought this was the only way to avoid frustration of court orders in school cases, presented the extraordinary spectacle of going along with the Southerners.

Then labor unions screamed, because the change would make it a crime to interfere with antistrike injunctions as well as antisegregation and other orders. The Senate ended up knocking out the whole section, including the amendment it had just adopted.

This was about as dizzy a performance as the Senate has put on in a long time. But it will probably look intellectual compared with what lies ahead if the Senate ever gets tangled in all those 100 other amendments.

Will Consecrate Bishop On May 4

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William G. Connare will be consecrated and installed at the second bishop of the Greensburg Diocese May 4.

An announcement Tuesday said the bishop-elect will be consecrated by the Most Rev. Egidio Vagnozzi, titular archbishop of Myra and the apostolic delegate to the United States, in the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament.

Msgr. Connare, pastor of St. Richard's Parish in Pittsburgh, was appointed bishop March 2. He will succeed the Rt. Rev. Hugh L. Lamb, who died last December.

The new bishop will serve as spiritual leader for some 20,000 Catholics in Westmoreland, Fayette, Indiana and Armstrong counties.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frederick W. Ford took over Tuesday as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and promptly gives Congress his views on how to protect government agencies from improper influence.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Sen. Walter H. Jones was caught flat-footed Monday when his name was called to talk about one of his bills. He had no idea which one it was. But Jones was equal to the occasion. "If I'm sponsoring it, it's a good bill," he said.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The New Jersey Legislature has given up on the Philadelphia Phillies. The Assembly Monday repealed a 1959 law designed to lure the Phillies to a proposed multimillion-dollar stadium near Garden State Race Track in Camden County.

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Russell James Theriot, 23, was arrested Monday in the $45,000 armed robbery of a New Iberia bank.

The FBI said all the money taken Saturday from a branch of the New Iberia National Bank was recovered from an air conditioner at the man's home. Theriot admitted the holdup, officers said.

MODENA, Italy (AP) — Four people were killed when a truck crashed through a lowered railroad crossing barrier near Fossolo, northern Italy, Monday night, hitting the diesel engine of a passing train.

DELICATE ART OF BUTTERING BOSS IS BARED

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Boss buttering is a fine art in America.

But it is amazing how few people are really expert at it.

"I don't want to be surrounded by yes men," a boss may say. "I need someone around here who can tell me when I am wrong."

But he doesn't really mean it. His wife will tell him when he is wrong. So will the chairman of the board.

What he really needs is someone who will build up his confidence by making him feel right—whether what he has done is right or wrong.

Skilled Man Rare

This takes a skilled "yes man," and it is surprising how few there are around.

If you're going to butter the boss at all, butter him all over.

Being a really successful yes man is no job for a shirker. It's hard work. The pay is good, but the hours are long.

Tried And True

Here are a dozen tested remarks found in the vocabulary of almost every successful yes man:

1. "Golf was made for you, J.B. If it weren't for that pebble in front of your tee, you'd have had a hole in one for sure."

2. "You're absolutely right, J.B. You had to take the bit in your teeth on that one."

3. "I'm not trying to flatter you, chief, but I'll bet there aren't five men in U.S. industry who could have come up with a solution like that."

4. "So what if we did drop half a million, J.B.? Even Babe Ruth never knocked them all over the fence."

5. "No, J.B., it's just your imagination. I can't see it's getting any thinner on top."

6. "Some days, J.B., it just doesn't pay to be nice to people. You gave him a $2.50 raise. What did he expect—the U.S. mint?"

7. "That last memo of yours on how the office is wasting too many paper clips was a model of executive tact, chief. It needed to be said, and no one else could have said it as well."

8. "You never looked better, J.B. You've got twice as much drive as most guys half your age."

9. "I really mean it, J.B. The world wouldn't be the same without you."

A Morale Booster

10. "I suppose you've been too busy to notice it, J.B., but morale sure has picked up since you made that little pep talk at the annual dinner of the 25-year men."

11. "Have you ever noticed, J.B., that the young fellows coming up don't have the same spark and team loyalty as the old-timers?"

12. "They'll never have to erect a monument to you, J.B. This firm will always be your monument, and you built it all by yourself."

Breathes there a boss with ego so dead he will fail to appreciate such a wonderful one-man cheering squad? No indeed.

GROUND PILOTS AT AGE OF 60

NEW YORK (AP) — Commercial airline pilots 60 years of age or older were grounded Tuesday by a Federal Aviation Agency order.

The ban went into effect at midnight after Federal Judge Alexander Bicks Monday denied a motion by the Air Line Pilots Assn. seeking a preliminary injunction against the ruling. Forty-seven pilots were affected immediately.

Attorneys for the pilots argued that the order, issued last December, was arbitrary and unreasonable.

In his order, FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada maintained that to allow pilots 60 or over to fly passengers at speeds of 500 miles an hour would be a hazard to safety in air carrier operations.

The pilots immediately appealed Bicks' decision. A hearing was set for April 8 before a three-judge appeals court.

BALKY WEST WINS IN BERLIN

BERLIN (AP) — A stubborn West Monday night won its battle with the Soviet Union over travel passes for Western military missions in East Germany. Word of the passes implied recognition of the Soviet puppet regime.

The Soviets discarded the passes after month-long Western refusal to accept them and retaliation against Soviet missions in West Germany.

The passes would have authorized the United States, British and French military missions stationed at Potsdam, East Germany, to travel in the "German Democratic Republic." The old passes, now back in effect, authorize travel in "the Soviet zone of Germany."

The Western Allies contended use of the passes would imply recognition of the East German regime, which they contend is an illegal, unrepresentative government.

The Soviets' surprising about-face came at a meeting of the heads of the Western missions with the Soviet chief of staff in East Germany, Lt. Gen. G. V. Voronov.

Teachers And Students In Accord On College Via TV

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Although you can go to college part time by television, it's not easy, teachers and students agree.

An experiment on college instruction via commercial television began last September over stations WCAU-TV in Philadelphia and WDAU-TV, Scranton, Pa.

Instruction is a half hour daily, Monday through Friday. It starts at 6:30 in the morning, when many people are still shaking off the cobwebs of drowsiness.

Two Courses Offered

Two courses were offered the first semester—descriptive astronomy and evaluation of literature—by the University of Pennsylvania. Courses on astronomy and anthropology comprise the second semester curriculum.

Paul Blanshard Jr., radio-television director at Penn and producer of "Television Seminar"—the unsponsored program which WCAU-TV and WDAU-TV telecast as a public service—said he never was associated with a project "which draws such uniform enthusiasm from beneficiaries, nor one which has such an unrealized potential."

The program reaches into New York State, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland—an area Blanshard said contains nearly 3 1/2 million TV sets.

Remains Undiscovered

"Presented at an usual hour, he said, "television seminar simply has not been discovered by most viewers."

To get college credits, a prospective student must enroll for the televised course at Penn and pay the standard university fee—$25 per semester credit. Astronomy, given Monday, Wednesday and Friday, earned three credits. Literature lectures on Tuesday and Thursday earned two.

Twenty-three persons enrolled for the initial astronomy course, but only 13 took the final exam. In literature 44 registered. Five, however, had incomplete marks and must retake the final.

Students were enthusiastic with results. They represented 23 towns in three states.

Lauds Educational Program

Mrs. Joan K. V. Beal of Jenkintown, Pa., said "I wanted to continue my college education but couldn't with young children around. You do lose a bit on TV—no discussion—but what you gain more than compensates."

Mrs. Grace M. Collins, Wenonah, N. J., wanted for years to go to college. She took the literature course to prove she could still learn, did well and now with husband's approval is going to enter college for her degree.

Fifteen-year-old Henry Regner, Darby, Pa., took both courses. Paralyzed, his mother wrote out his final exam answers—and Henry finished with an A in astronomy, a B in literature.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lloyd J. LaRose, 51, chairman of the board of trustees of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, died Monday of a heart attack. He was born in Montreal.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Michael H. Ebert, 74, former professor of dermatology at the University of Illinois, died Saturday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Lipper, 44, public affairs officer for the U.S. Information Agency in Penang, Malaya, died there Saturday of a heart attack, the USIA announced Monday. Lipper was born in New York City.

STATE TRIES TO COORDINATE ITS FACILITIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Three state agencies will work through a conservation coordinating committee to improve hunting, fishing and recreational facilities in state parks and forests.

Formation of the committee was announced Monday by the Department of Forests and Waters and the Fish and Game Commissions.

"We have cooperated in the past, of course, but never on a formal, high-level basis," said Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters.

"Yet this is the only way we are going to be able to tie our three related programs together effectively," he added.

Rangers To Help

M. J. Golden, game commission director, said the committee will enable the agencies to "cooperate closely on problems like law enforcement so that a more effective job can be done."

Forest rangers will be called upon to assist game protectors and fish wardens and vice-versa, he said.

H. R. Stackhouse, acting Fish Commission director, said the department heads, who comprise the committee, found the first session so productive they plan to meet monthly.

TRY TO CURB NARCOTICS IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new effort to curb narcotics traffic in Pennsylvania is being undertaken by the State Health Department.

Keyed to a series of seminars, the program seeks to combat what has become a problem of growing concern in recent years for state health and law enforcement agencies.

Details of the program were announced Monday by Dr. Charles L. Wilbur Jr., health secretary. He named Dr. Joseph Adelstein, director of the department's Behavioral Problems Division, to supervise it.

"From the information we have on a statewide basis, it is apparent that this (narcotics) problem has increased in recent years, but not greatly," Adelstein told the Associated Press.

He added that although figures weren't available to indicate the number of dope addicts in local areas, it was "safe to say" that much of the narcotics traffic is concentrated in the state's largest cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Adelstein said the seminars will open in Philadelphia April 6 and continue there for six consecutive Wednesdays. The first series will be for law enforcement groups. Later sessions are planned for parole and probation officers.

Explain Objectives

"We hope to hold the seminars on a statewide basis later," Adelstein said.

Explaining the program's objective, he added:

"We are concerned with getting across to enforcement groups the medical as well as the enforcement aspects of this problem."

Experts in the field of narcotics research will be in charge of the seminar sessions, Wilbur said.

Mother Of Five Marries Father

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — A woman who gave birth to quintuplets a week ago married their father Monday in a hospital where the four surviving infants lay in incubators.

A civil ceremony was held for Paula Guerrero Mungia, 43, and Gilberto Diaz, 28. They plan a religious ceremony later.

Mrs. Diaz gave birth to two boys and three girls last Tuesday. One boy died shortly after birth. The couple have two other children.

Diaz, an unemployed farmhand, said he and Paula had not married for 10 years because of money troubles and objections from her family. Now he has been promised a steady job, Mrs. Diaz' parents are reconciled to the union and authorities plan to build a home for the family.

Doctors said the babies are doing well but will probably remain in the hospital for five months.

TV CRITIC HAS TAKEN SAMPLE OF RADIO MENU

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like an old-fashioned cold in the head—running eyes, drippy nose and accompanying bad disposition—to reveal what has been happening to radio while we've had our attention fixed on television.

Television proved no panacea for this recently rheumy-eyed sufferer, but neither, it must be confessed, was good old daytime radio. It takes more than a couple of days for a stranger to get caught up in the adventures of "Helen Trent." Top news just doesn't break fast enough to add much variety to those half-hour news roundup programs. Music, even when it isn't rock and roll, begins to cloy when it isn't an accompaniment to something else the listener is doing.

Hardly Any Fun

The more entertaining part of the day for a restless invalid unable even to read, started with Sam Levenson on CBS shortly after 9 a.m. I found that I stuck with that network straight through to 2 p.m. when it concluded its block of daytime serials.

Actually, however, there is so little except music on radio these days it's hardly any fun at all any more to stay home with a cold in the head.

To Repeat "Salute"

CBS plans to repeat, for nighttime audiences, the hour-long "Salute to the American Theater" originally shown early on a December Sunday afternoon. The repeat will be Friday, April 8, 9-10 p.m., and is well worth attention by those who missed it first time out.

You can be sure we will get the full treatment on the Windsor Jones nuptials. NBC already has plans for two special programs. One will cover the background of

INDICTMENT BY YORK JURORS IS SUPPORTED

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A private investigating committee says it has information providing the identity of Christopher C. Campbell.

Campbell, a Baltimore County farmer, was indicted by the York County, Pa., grand jury on three abortion charges, but the name on the indictment was Charles Christopher Campbell.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes last month refused to order extradition to Pennsylvania because of the name.

New Indictment Issued

Later the York County Grand Jury issued a new indictment naming the defendant as Christopher C. Campbell as well as Charles C. Campbell.

Alvin T. T. Zumbun, executive secretary of the Private Maryland Criminal Investigating Committee, Monday released a letter sent by the committee to Tawes. The letter said:

"During our investigation, we were privileged to observe documents and photographs which in our opinion proved beyond any doubt to a mathematical certainty that the individual present in your office at the extradition hearing on Feb. 22, 1960, is the same individual charged in the Pennsylvania indictment in question."

Tells Of Reply

Zumbun said he received a reply last week from the governor. The reply stated:

"I was not aware that a new indictment was handed down by the York County Grand Jury naming the defendant as Christopher C. Campbell as well as Charles C. Campbell."

"When the new request for extradition reaches my office I shall carefully review the papers and if there is any question as to their form and legal sufficiency, I shall be glad to avail myself of the opportunities to review your complete file in this case."

The committee's letter to Tawes also said:

"We feel strongly that a failure to extradite this individual under the new indictment would be a grave miscarriage of justice."

Ability Of Woman To Keep A Secret To Be Tested Soon

By DOROTHY ROE

Can a woman keep a secret? The United States government will soon find out, as some 136,000 women start out April 1 in every city, town and crossroads to compile highly personal information about their neighbors, for the 1960 census.

This year Uncle Sam is depending largely on housewives to count the noses of Americans for him, since not many men are available for the job. The Bureau of the Census in Washington estimates that 85 per cent of the 160,000 takers of the 1960 census will be women, compared with 65 per cent in 1950. The reason: higher employment and higher wages. A two-week job at an average of $13 a day doesn't have as many takers as it did 10 years ago.

Work Over Neighborhoods

Census takers will work largely in their own neighborhoods, for purposes of convenience and efficiency.

Questionnaires will be mailed to all residents of the United States late in March, and a few days later census takers will call to pick up the answers, and check them.

This is the rub. The new census questions go into details which Mrs. Jones may not want her neighbors to know—questions about age, income, number of marriages and so on. In four homes will receive detailed questionnaires containing 45 questions designed to give the government a living portrait of every American—how many days off you or your husband had last year, how you or he travels to work, how many bedrooms in your home, and so on. These detailed questionnaires are mailed direct to the regional census office, in a postage-paid envelope enclosed.

Answer Eleven Questions

But the regular census form, containing 11 questions, is picked up by the census taker, who checks the answers. Since the census taker probably is a neighbor, some people may feel a few qualms about revealing all their vital and financial statistics.

The Census Bureau assures the public that all records are confidential, and that the enumerators are sworn to secrecy, with stiff penalties for divulging the contents of any questionnaire. Not even the President or the FBI can look at these census records, they say.
